

DOMESTIC ABUSE ROUTINE ENQUIRY TOOLKIT

Training for frontline professionals

www.daretoolkit.org.uk

WHY DARE?

For every victim and survivor of domestic abuse, there is a perpetrator. We believe that if we are to stand any chance of reducing risk to victims, it is imperative that we identify and engage people who harm and hold them to account.

We designed the DARE (Domestic Abuse Routine Enquiry) toolkit to support frontline professionals in playing their part. We want to see a whole system change where frontline services embed DARE as part of their work with clients so that people using harmful behaviour can be identified earlier, held to account better, and receive the right specialist intervention to help them change their behaviour.

Collectively, we can do better and we're excited for you to join us.

IS THIS TRAINING FOR ME?

DARE training is a must-have for all frontline professionals, it fosters a collaborative community approach where all agencies play a role in:

Identifying those using harmful behaviours within their client groups

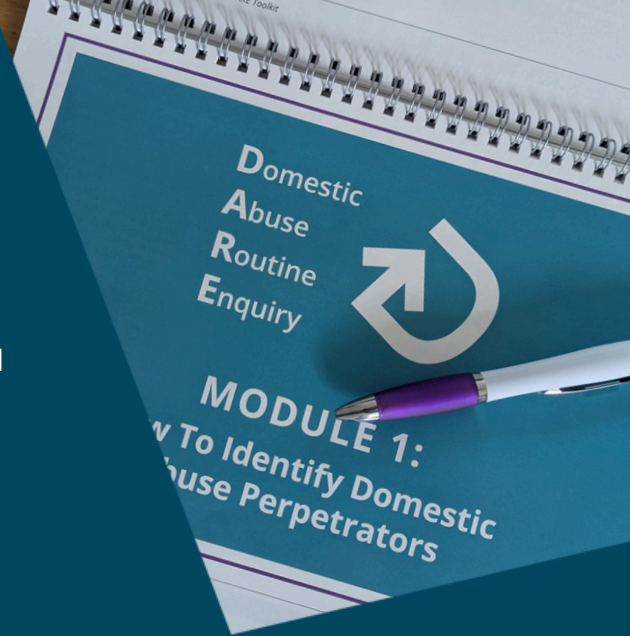

Initiating conversations about their harmful behaviours

Creating opportunities to refer these clients to the appropriate intervention at the right time

Join us in making a difference. Equip yourself with the tools to contribute to a safer, more supportive community.

I am now willing to offer support to families where domestic abuse is a concern – previously I have asked my team manager to avoid allocating me these cases.

HOW TO BOOK

DARE is interactive tutor led training delivered online via Teams and consists of three modules:

Session 1 of 3: How to identify domestic abuse perpetrators

Session 2 of 3: How to explore risks and context associated with domestic abuse perpetrators

Session 3 of 3: How to engage domestic abuse perpetrators and nudge them into specialist services

Sessions are spread over 3 weeks and run from 9am–12.30pm, the training totals 10.5 hours, you'll receive a CPD certificate, a printed toolkit and pen!

Individual bookings cost £275 per person, bookings of 10+ can be bought at discounted rates.

WHY TRUST US?

Here at Hampton Trust, we believe that identifying people who are abusive must go beyond a criminal justice response and be the responsibility of all frontline services. Unless we commit to a shared vision of addressing those causing harm, perpetrators will remain under the radar and victims will continue to suffer in silence.

Hampton Trust offer a range of intervention and support services, with a focus on perpetrator behaviour change.

Our team consists of highly knowledgeable professionals experienced in working with domestic abuse perpetrators and promoting behaviour change. We are also Respect accredited, a quality assurance certification for those working with perpetrators.

For the past 5 years, our DARE training has been delivered locally in Hampshire and across wider areas of the UK. In 2021, Southampton University evaluated our training, with 97% of trainees supporting a routine enquiry approach to identifying people who are abusive in their service.
